Office Hours: By appointment

Course Aims

The course is a social and intellectual history of pre-modern Japan, mapping both institutional shifts and the distinct cultures that emerged in the early Buddhist temple complexes of ancient Nara, in women's quarters of the Heian court of Kyoto, in the medieval capital of Kamakura, among the samurai of the Warring States Period and in the tea houses and pleasure districts of Edo (early Tokyo). The course will engage the Japanese experience from a wide range of thematic and cultural perspectives. Themes will include political and military cultures, the machinations of court intrigue, the brilliant and melancholy literary productions of aristocratic women, the rise of a Buddhist intelligentsia, and the emergence of the high arts that have come to define what we all know and love about Japanese culture today.

Intended Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, you will be able to:

1. Distinguish between the class and gender formations as they shift and re-align through Japanese history.
2. Properly read and interpret a number of pieces of visual imagery from different periods in Japanese history and understand each of their art historical context.
3. Understand the religious underpinnings for key shifts in Japanese culture.
4. Learn how to interpret literary productions in ancient and medieval Japan according to their cultural contexts.
5. Explain how key political and military constituencies in ancient and medieval Japan re-aligned according to changing historical circumstances.

Requirements and Expectations

Participation - 10%: You are required to be present and ready to participate in each lecture class and during group discussions in the tutorial, having completed the week's readings beforehand. Both the readings AND lectures will be tested on the final assignment.

Weekly Online Submissions - 20%: Each week, you are to submit online a 400-word analysis of at least one primary source utilizing accompanying secondary sources. You will submit the primary source analysis 2 days before the class to give other students the opportunity to read through your argument. You will discuss these one-page analyses of the readings in small discussion groups in tutorial. In these discussions with other students, you will come together to formulate evidence-based, well-reasoned arguments for your interpretations of the primary sources of that week.

Mid-term essay - 30%: You will submit a 1500-word essay (due Week 6). The professor will determine the argument of the essay. The role of the student will be to draw upon primary and secondary sources to conceptualize and explain the reasons for the historical process outlined in the argument.

Final Essay Assignment – 40%: You will be examined on the historical processes at work throughout pre-modern Japan. The final assignment exam will test your understanding of how to interpret key primary sources based on leading scholarship.

Course Policies

(1) General

You are expected to complete all assigned pre-class readings and activities, attend all lectures/tutorials punctually and take all scheduled assignments and tests by due dates. You are expected to take responsibility to follow up with course notes, assignments and course related announcements for seminar sessions you have missed. You are expected to participate in all seminar discussions and activities.

(2) Absenteeism

Absence from class without a valid reason can affect your overall course grade. Valid reasons include falling sick supported by a medical certificate and participation in NTU's approved activities supported by an excuse letter from the relevant bodies.

If you miss a lecture, you must inform the course instructor via email prior to the start of the class.

(3) Late submission of assignments and extensions

Midterm essay assignments that are submitted past the due date will be deducted 10% off the mark assigned per day that the assignment is late, down to the pass mark (40%). That is, you will not be failed merely on late submission, but there is a significant penalty per day. If you receive 65% and your assignment is 1 day late, your mark will be 55% (a 10% penalty). If you receive 60% and your assignment is 4 days late, you will receive 40% (since I do not deduct below the pass mark).

Extensions: If you require an extension please email me prior to day the assignment is due. Extensions will only be given in cases of illness (in which a student presents a medical certificate) or in serious extenuating circumstances.

Appendix: Course Style Guide

1. Format of all written assignments

1.A. Font

The essay should be in Times New Roman font. The body of paragraphs should be 12 point size. Headings should be 14 point size and footnotes 10 point size.

1.B. Spacing

The body of the essay (including block quotations) should be double spaced. However, footnotes may be single spaced.

2. Elements of style

2.A. Quotations

Double quotation marks should be used. Quotations within quotations should be indicated with single quotation marks. Place commas and full stops inside quotations and other punctuation marks (e.g. colons and semi-colons) outside the quotation, unless they are part of the quoted text.

Short quotes: Short quotations from other sources should be included in quotation marks within the body of the paragraph.

Block quotes: Quotations of four or more lines (before indenting) should be formatted as a block quote. In a block quote, the quoted text should be in a separate paragraph from the main text and indented from the margin. Neither italics nor quotation marks should be used in a block quote unless they appear in the original. The footnote to the quote should be included at the end of the quote, after the punctuation mark. The quoted text should be in double line spacing (like the main text).

Asst. Prof. Nicholas Witkowski

Time Thursday 10:30-12:30

Venue LT 17

Email: nwitkowski@ntu.edu.sg

Office Hours: By appointment

2.B. Spelling

The essay should be in the English language. Students may use either American or British spelling, but should be consistent throughout. Quotations should follow the original text precisely, even if there are spelling or grammatical errors in the original. Students should insert “[sic]” after spelling and grammatical mistakes in quotations.

2.C. Italics

Italics should be used for non-English language words. However, words of non-English language origin that are commonly used in English (such as “bazaar”) do not need to be in italics.

Moreover, foreign language proper nouns such as names, places, and organisations (for example, “Guomindang” or “Barisan Nasional”) should not be italicised.

2.D. References to titles in the text

References to the titles of books, pamphlets, films, etc. should follow the referencing style (see section 2 below). Thus, the following titles should be italicised: books; pamphlets; periodicals; plays; and films. The following should be enclosed in quotation marks: titles of articles; book chapters; unpublished works; and theses.

2.E. Brackets

Round brackets should be used in the main text (these are round brackets). Square brackets should be used for insertions in quotations, if an insertion is required so that the quoted sentence makes sense. For example: Washington stated in his 1796 Farewell Address, “The unity of government which constitutes you one people is also now dear to you [the American people].”

2.F. Numbers and dates

Spell out numbers less than ten, except for page numbers and dates, and material in footnotes and bibliography (see section 2 below on referencing style).

For dates, use the following forms: 20 December 1875; 1875–77; nineteenth century; 1870s; 200 B.C. and A.D. 200. Including A.D. is only necessary if non-inclusion would cause confusion.

Abbreviations may be used in footnotes, e.g.: 20 Dec. 1875.

The following are examples of correct and incorrect references to decades:

The doctor gave up smoking back in the 1980's. → Incorrect

The doctor gave up smoking back in the 1980s. → Correct

The doctor gave up smoking back in the '80's. → Incorrect

The doctor gave up smoking back in the '80s. → Correct

3. Footnote and bibliography referencing style

Students are required to use the 16th edition of the Chicago Manual of Style, which is available on-shelf in the NTU library. Below are examples of footnote and bibliography references taken from the Chicago style guide.

3.A. Footnotes

The first time a work is referenced in the footnotes, a full reference (including full author name, title and publication details) should be used. Subsequent references should be shortened to author's family name, short title and page number. When the same work is referenced in two consecutive footnotes, "Ibid., [page number]" should be used for the second footnote.

Periodical

Article in a print journal

In a note, list the specific page numbers consulted, if any. In the bibliography, list the page range for the whole article. If you access a print journal electronically, you do not need to include the URL or DOI (Digital Object Identifier). A DOI is a permanent ID that, when appended to <http://dx.doi.org/> in the address bar of an Internet browser, will lead to the source. URL's and DOI's are only necessary for journals which are published in electronic format only (see below).
